Storyboarding for TV Animation with Alan Wan

Hello, I'm DeMarco, I'm a Black Storyboard artist and animator born and raised in the Bay Area, now currently based in Los Angeles County; I graduated from CSU Fullerton with a BFA in Animation with a focus in Storyboarding for TV.

Upon entering college I wanted to pursue storytelling through comics and graphic novels, however after being introduced to the animation and storyboarding mediums, I found myself falling in love with making characters move and live in their respective worlds.

My goal is to become a action/comedy/adventure oriented storyboard artist; my work is influenced by anime as well as anime inspired shows like Voltron, Avatar and Castlevania; I love the dynamism of the characters and the cinematic feel each show gives off.
